Through an examination of the remarkable diaries and letters of three extraordinary and distinctive German-Jewish thinkers-Gershom Scholem, Hannah Arendt, and Victor Klemperer-Steven E. Aschheim illuminates what these intimate writings reveal about their evolving identities and world views as they wrestled with the meaning of being both German and Jewish in Hitler's Third Reich. In recounting how their personal and private selves responded to the public experiences these writers faced, their letters and diaries provide a striking composite portrait.
