Excerpt: .I think, z .cents. that the dietetic treatment must form the basis of all other therapeutic measures and that all endeavours prove unsuccessful, if the most careful attention is not paid to diet. Differences of opinion are not likely to arise either in respect to the adherence to the following principle in dietetic regimen: albuminates and fatty substances as much as possible, sugar and carbo-hydrates as little as possible. Whoever recollects from his practice how hard it is for diabetic patients to abstain from sugar in eatables and drinks for some length of time, is sure to attach immense importance to the fact that a substitute for sugar has been discovered in saccharine, which can be used in case of diabetes without the least harm for any length of time. I have in treatment at present three sufferers from this disease whose urine I...
